Vietnamese family starts new life in Minden

A family of five, refugees from Vietnam, started a new life in Canada a week ago today.

Last Wednesday Chi Thanh Luong, his wife and son, and two nephews arrived in Minden. They were sponsored by the Minden-Coboconk Refugee Committee, established earlier this year to assist those fleeing from the Communist government in Vietnam.

Initially the family of five seemed bewildered by all the activity that swirled around them from the time they landed in Toronto Wednesday afternoon. But, as the week wore on, they appeared to be becoming more accustomed to the different surroundings.

Part of the problem in becoming adjusted to the new setting was the fact that none of the five could speak English very well. One of the nephews, Khai Diem Phan, had studied English grammar for some time in Vietnam and this proved to be of some assistance in communicating with the members of the sponsoring committee, but learning of a new language will be the first main hurdle the family members will have to overcome.

The family group includes: the father Chi Thanh Luong, a native of China who is 49 years of age. He is a mechanic. His wife, Ky Thai, who is 51 years of age, is a native of Saigon. Their son, Minh Thieu Luong, is 18 years of age and has worked as a watch repairman. Two brothers, nephews of Mr. Luong, are 18 year old Khai Diem Phan, a native of Saigon who has worked as a mechanic's helper and his brother Minh Dien Phan, a 17 year old student.

Khai was able to relate some of the trials the family experienced in their efforts to reach freedom. He said the group, which had been living in Gia Dinh, a suburb of Saigon, left Vietnam from a southern port city. They were forced to pay $2000 in gold for the privilege of leaving their homeland, although it was not made clear if that amount was paid to the government or the owner of the boat.

According to Khai, the boat was 21 metres long and held 405 people. They left Vietnam on February 27 and headed across the south China Sea for the Malaysian Peninsula.

It took them close to a month to cover that distance and during that time they were attacked 12 times by pirates from Thailand, the thieves stole all their valuables and on a number of instances the pirates raped the female passengers.

As they approached Malaysia, police from that country attempted to stop them from landing. They were chased away from the shores a number of times until they made a forced landing and the military authorities were obliged to take responsibility for the refugees.

They were removed to a refugee camp on a small island, called Pulau Bidong, off the peninsula. It was estimated that in March the camp held some 42,000 refugees. They were living within an area one kilometre square. There was little shelter in the camp and food was scarce.

The family group spent eight months in the camp until they were finally chosen for emigration to Canada. During that time the population of the camp dwindled to 10,000 people as countries around the world increased their efforts in accepting refugees.

On October 12 the family was taken to Kuala Lumpur where procedures were

Arrive in Minden

The Vietnamese family sponsored by the Minden-Coboconk Refugee Committee have finally arrived in this community. They were welcomed to town Wednesday afternoon. The group is seen here beside the new Minden post office sign. They include, from the left, Khai Diem Phan, Minh Dien Phan, Mr. Chi Thanh Luong, Minh Thieu Luong and Mrs. Ky Thai Luong.

for their transfer to Canada and they finally arrived in Edmonton on November 17.

At that time the family unit was assigned to the local sponsoring group and Reverend Douglas Miller of the Minden United Church was notified that the family would be arriving within a few days.

After being picked up at Toronto International Airport Wednesday the family spent two nights as guests of Lorne and Grace Coburn of Minden. Friday the family was transferred to a cottage near Coboconk where they stayed until today when they will return to Minden to a home rented by the sponsoring committee.

It is expected the five will be attending the English lessons which have been held for three other refugees in Haliburton. At the moment, however, the family is relaxing, getting used to things Canadian and trying to become accustomed to the cold weather.

Ministry moving to cut deer population decline

Close to 80 hunters and interested sportsmen attended a seminar on moose and deer population held at the Minden Community Centre Thursday evening.

The gathering had been organized by the Ministry of Natural Resources in an effort to explain the reasons for the decline in the local herd and the measures which are being planned to increase the number of deer in the area.

The ministry was also seeking input from the general public on the MNR plans and suggestions as to other measures that might be taken to improve the herd size.

While there is a small moose herd in the Algonquin area, the seminar concentrated almost exclusively on the deer population problem.

According to MNR spokesman Eric Mitchell, one of the main suggestions made at the seminar was the plan for a select harvesting of deer. As proposed the plan would allow for unrestricted hunting of antlered (male) deer while only a certain number of licences would be issued for the taking of unantlered (does and fawns) deer. At the moment a licence to hunt deer does not discriminate between the two.

The ministry hopes that by reducing pressure on the female population in the herd, the number of additions will increase, in proportion to the annual kill, thereby increasing the overall population.

The suggestion was generally well received by the audience, although there was some concern that hunters, who have not had to identify their targets as to antlered or unantlered in the past, may not take the time to do so once the licence restrictions were in force and so unantlered deer shot by hunters without a licence to take them, may be left to rot in the bush.

The meeting was told that one of the prime reasons for the drop in the herd population is over-hunting. However, it was also pointed out that predators, such as wolves and domestic dogs are taking their toll. Starvation, especially during severe winter weather has been blamed as a contributor to the decline as has the loss of habitat.

Mitchell commented that the ministry is making an effort to improve the habitat for the deer. He said the fish and wild life section of the ministry is working closely with the timber branch to enhance the area for deer population.

He explained that much of the county is now mature hardwood forest which

One for the record book

It was the type of accident that would make even the most dedicated police officer consider turning in his badge. The mishap, or rather chain of events that unfolded early Sunday morning is one that is surely destined for the record book. According to police this is what transpired:

At approximately 1:30 Sunday morning, Susanne M. Kay, 20, of Haliburton, was leaving the parking lot at the Beaconbrook Hotel in Haliburton. Kay was driving a 1974 pick-up truck and, as she manoeuvred to leave the lot, the left rear corner of her vehicle hooked onto the left rear corner of a 1978 automobile owned by Deborah Faulkner of Toronto.

Kay left the parking lot with the Faulkner vehicle in tow. She travelled south on Highway 519 for approximately 1.3 kilometres before coming to a halt, the Faulkner vehicle still attached to her own.

However, before she came to a stop a third vehicle, a pick-up truck travelling north on Highway 519, struck the car being towed behind the Kay vehicle. When Kay stopped the driver of the third vehicle returned to the scene, approximately in front of the Lakeview school. When the driver of the third vehicle learned that the police had been contacted he left the scene immediately.

The two vehicles were moved from the road onto the school parking lot. There the vehicles were disengaged.

At this point, a passenger in the Kay vehicle, Thomas J.

Little, 31, of R.R. 2 Haliburton attempted to leave the scene in the pick-up truck. As he was pulling away from in front of Lakeview School, a friend of the owner of the car that had been towed from the hotel lot, John S. Gubser, 31, of R.R. 2 Haliburton appeared on the scene. As Gubser turned into the school parking lot, the vehicle driven by Little struck the rear of the Gubser truck. Little then left the scene.

The stats for the evening are as follows:

-1974 pick-up truck driven by Kay: $150

-1978 car towed from hotel to Lakeview School: $300

-pick-up truck driven by unknown driver: damage estimate unknown

-1974 pick-up driven by Thomas J. Little: $200 damage

-1978 pick-up truck driven by John P. Gubser: $200

Police have charged Kay with failing to remain at the scene of an accident, arising out of the original collision in the hotel parking lot. Little has also been charged with failing to remain at the scene of an accident following his collision with Gubser. Little has been charged with careless driving as well.

Police are still looking for the unknown driver and vehicle involved in the mishap.

Constable Bob Pearson of the Minden OPP untangled the details as the investigating officer.

FROM THE CHAMBER

By Bob Stinson

This week we received correspondence from both our tourism consultant in Huntsville, Win Bestwick, and the industry consultant in Orillia confirming a change that the Chamber has been requesting for some time. Both of these functions will now be handled out of the Peterborough office of the Ministry of Industry and Tourism.

We hasten to add that we have had an excellent working relationship with Win Bestwick in Huntsville, and we know many of our members have had also. It is simply a matter of geography and the fact that our county relates south to Victoria and Peterborough for most other government services that makes us feel sure this will be a far better working arrangement.

Win Bestwick has asked us to pass along his very best regards to all of you and to say that he has sincerely enjoyed working with you.

The one exception in the county to this change will be the townships of Sherbourne, McClintock and Livingstone. Because of their close proximity to Huntsville they will continue to deal with that office for tourism matters, and this makes good sense.

Tourism operators are now advised for all matters concerning the ministry to contact Mr. Potter in the Peterborough office at 139 George Street (right across from the Holiday Inn), phone 705-742-3459. The industry representative is now Mr. Ken Ledgard and he works from the same office and phone number.

We look forward to much more convenient worker relations due to these changes, and hope that our members find it so also.

Joint meeting

The Haliburton Rotary Club hosted a meeting last week to which they invited representatives from the Kinsmen Club, Legion and the Lions Club. An exchange of plans took place that gave a brief over-view of the ambitious plans of all these clubs through the coming year.

Reeve Murray Fearry also provided the meeting with some indications of how the municipality would fit into the over-all plan of things, and thanked the clubs for this support of the many worth while projects now underway or completed. One new project to which they could give some thought, working with the municipality, could be to provide an elevator at the arena for the "New Horizons" club room.

The co-operation shown by these four clubs could well be the seed for something even better. If two members of each organization could get together for at least two meetings a year to make each other aware of their plans it could foster an even higher spirit of working together as well as providing a wealth of information as to who to contact about a given function and when it is, etc. The Chamber is looking at the possibility of co-ordinating such a meeting.

Rare Earth meeting disrupted

The public meeting held in Wilberforce last week to provide information to all concerned regarding the company's plans to further explore the possibilities of mining in that area was disrupted to a considerable extent by the "anti-everything" groupies that we are getting so much exposure to lately. It was not disclosed where they came from and their interest was obviously not the economic well being of our eastern townships.

They show up at meetings such as this to simply argue against everything without ever having a positive idea of their own worth voicing. They appear to be convinced that the whole world can operate on solar energy and from this dream world flows their lack of logic.

If the uranium ore in the mine sites in question proves out to be of a high enough grade this activity will provide a most needed boost to the economy of that part of our county, and with all the assurance of environmental controls that we now have it should certainly be welcomed.

Welcome new businesses

Linda Brandon is no stranger to the insurance business, having been employed therein in Minden employed therein in Minden for quite a few years now. Linda has now obtained her own brokerage licence and has opened her own agency on Peck Street. We welcome her as a new member and wish her much success in her new business.

Al Couture has been working very hard for some time completing the considerable renovations to the "Old Barn" at Haliburton and now has a beautiful facility to show for it. Renamed the "Haliburton Hayloft" the building now features a well appointed and licenced dining room on the ground floor and a casual lounge upstairs. The lounge will have live entertainment on the "Hay Wagon" stage on Thursday, Friday and Saturdays. This is a welcome new addition to the village and we sincerely hope it does well.

Do drop in and say "howdy" at these new establishments and let them know we appreciate the additional services they are providing our communities.

Council told little damage being done by acid rain

by A.F. Stevenson

Acid rain fallout occupied a substantial part of the time spent by Haliburton County Council at the November 21 meeting.

Following recent reports issued by a federal agency studying acid rain fallout, County Council had requested that Dr. Linzon, from the ministry of environment, be present to discuss the subject. Dr. Linzon who had spoken to council last June, stated that there was nothing different to what had been said on that occasion and in his opinion there was little cause for alarm.

With regards to the federal report on acid rain, it was his opinion that the newspapers or T.V. had, by taking some statements out of context, produced scare headlines and, in his opinion, there had been no damage to the forests and that little other harm has resulted from the fall-out.

In reply to questions from Stanhope Deputy Reeve Elgin Stouffer with regard to forest damage in the Sudbury area, Dr. Linzon stated that this damage was the result of acid deposit during previous years. Stouffer wondered if this meant that the deposit was not going elsewhere due to dispersal from the new very high chimneys being used to take it away from the Sudbury area.

County Warden James Harrison questioned Dr. Linzon about the possible damage to Haliburton County waters resulting from acidified water flowing into Haliburton from the adjoining watersheds to the north. Mr. Ed Pichet from the provincial environment ministry stated that there was no immediate threat to sport fishing but that this could change in five years. He was optimistic that remedial measures could be expected in two years and informed council that the tests of Haliburton waters produced safe readings.

Dysart et al Reeve Murray Fearry raised the question of when the tests were carried out and was informed that these had been done last April. Mr. Fearry then asked about earlier tests that might have been made and was told that there were none. Reeve Fearry then pointed out that there was no way to indicate if the waters were or were not any worse off from acid rain fallout.

The acidity of lakes in Haliburton is said to compare with those in Norway and Reeve Fearry then pointed out that there have been serious problems in Norway with great damage to the growth of moss in the waters there. He asked if there was any danger of the same thing happening here but was told that the type of moss involved grows a considerable distance north of Haliburton County.

It was pointed out that this county has no current acidified lakes but some were "susceptible".

There appeared to be little comfort for concerned people in what was said at the meeting and it appears that the acid rain controversy is resolving itself into that all too familiar pattern where one group of experts gives the public assurance only to be contradicted by another group of experts. It seems that as long as acid rain is with us, everything in its way is susceptible, and the time we spend waiting to see if it is really harmful to the environment may turn out to be very expensive procrastination.

If there is a serious effort to provide remedial action then that is fine, but we believe that pressure should be applied to keep the effort going forward and this pressure can be best applied right from the grass roots. Every township, every property or cottage owners association, every concerned citizens group should have its committee to keep abreast of the changing conditions of the waters, forests or land due to acid deposition and to maintain necessary pressures on governments and their agencies so that there can be no doubt about the concern and the temper of the people about this threat.

In Stanhope Township we have a population that cherishes the blessings that nature has provided, as well as being dependant on those same resources for a part of its economy.

Mr. Bob Stinson, manager of the Chamber of Commerce, reported to County Council on a seminar attended by himself and Glen Hodgson which dealt with the matter of acid rain fallout. He was very impressed by the considerable number of concerned persons who had attended from the U.S.

Those groups have exerted pressure on their federal and state governments and intend to continue pressing for tighter and more far reaching controls.

The statement was made at the meeting that U.S. plans, inspired by the oil shortage, could result in the dangerous emissions being doubled in a few years. The efforts in Canada are encouraging to the concerned people across the border who are striving to meet this threat.

Mr. Stinson suggested the need for a committee to be formed by county council to study and take action on the subject of acid rain.

County Council took no action to form such a committee.

Acid rain continues to make headlines this fall, and with good reason. The more we learn about this pressing problem, the darker those stormclouds appear.

Beginning rivers and lakes are starting to show up in the Maritimes, and are suspected in Quebec. Acidity in snow, which creates an acid flush at snowmelt, can be even more damaging. Experts are beginning to document effects on forests and farmland. A look at Scandinavia, where the problem is perhaps 10 years more advanced than ours, reveals 5000 lakes already dead. Seldom have we been able to look ahead and see the danger so clearly.

In the face of all this, we should expect urgent government actions to reduce the sulphur and nitrogen oxide emissions that are causing acid rain. After all, an Ontario legislative committee called this "a national emergency." But a recent international conference on acid rain, sponsored by environmental groups from across North America, found little cause for optimism.

A control strategy for acid rain pollutants has to work on two fronts. Ontario's own emissions, largely from smelters and power plants, have to be reduced by modifying existing facilities. An international treaty, to reduce long-range pollution from planned and existing U.S. coal-burning plants is also essential.

Conference delegates heard statements of good intentions about a treaty from representatives of both the Canadian and U.S. governments, but so far progress has been frustratingly slow. Scientists from both sides of the border have issued a joint report to form a basis for negotiations, but a firm agreement is not expected until at least after next year's presidential elections. Even then, an agreement could be stalled by a Congress that is more interested in coal development than pollution control.

On the home front, Environment Minister Harry

Charges laid

Police have charged a Haliburton man with break, enter and theft following an incident sometime during the night of November 19-20.

Medley's Arcade in Haliburton was entered through a window and approximately $7.50 in change removed from the premises. $10 damage was done in the entry.

Police have charged Richard Wayne Shaw in connection with the incident.

Constable Jim Solway was the investigating officer.

Charge laid

A charge of careless hunting has been laid against a Wilberforce man as the result of an incident earlier this month.

Michael F. Irvine has been charged and will appear in Provincial Court December 11.

Irvine was hunting in the bush near Wilberforce with a companion, Timothy Oram, 21, when Irvine saw something move amongst some trees and fired his rifle before realizing it was Oram.

Constable Gary Chapman of the Minden OPP investigated the incident.

provides little in the way of browse for the deer and does not provide the winter protection needed to shelter the animals from the cold. He said that major disturbances to the forest, such as widespread cutting or a forest fire have not occurred in the area for some time. These disturbances, Mitchell outlined, have not occurred to any extent in the past few years, resulting in a serious loss of habitat for the deer.

The ministry is moving ahead on a number of fronts to help increase the deer population. The least expensive and fastest method is to introduce selected harvest of the herd, a situation which Mitchell predicted would be imposed soon in this region.

Other methods to increase the herd include habitat improvement, better predator control and stricter enforcement of game laws. These, it was pointed out, require greater amounts of money to be accomplished so they are farther down the list of the ministry's priorities.

Mitchell also noted that these methods will not result in an instant increase in deer numbers in the area. He pointed out that increasing the deer population in the Algonquin region is a long-term undertaking that will probably not result in visible increases for at least five or more years.

The spokesman was confident that the program of herd building being undertaken by the ministry will be a success, however. He pointed to the response of those attending the Thursday night meeting and the concerns expressed about the dwindling deer population as the most promising elements in the ministry's efforts.

Parrott is coming increasingly under fire for his apparent reticence to clean up Ontario's polluters. He and his staff have been meeting with Inco officials to talk about reductions from their Sudbury operations - North America's largest single source of sulphur dioxide - but the technical and financial problems are enormous. Discussions have also begun with Ontario Hydro, with the coal-burning Nanticoke plant, and the new Atikoken station, no doubt high on the agenda.

Despite all the question marks surrounding acid rain, two points are clear. This problem is the most serious environmental crisis we have had to face. And if we want to minimize its effects on our future, we have no time to waste.

Muddying the waters

Certainly one of the most confusing aspects surrounding the problem of acidified precipitation, is the number of conflicting opinions heard from various sources. It is difficult for the layman to form an opinion or feel confident in his actions when so-called "experts" offer opposing viewpoints on such a complicated problem.

Such was the case last Wednesday morning when Dr. Sam Linzon of the Ontario Ministry of the Environment appeared before county council. Dr. Linzon had spoken to the group earlier this year and at that time stated, as one who was studying the impact of acid rain, he had been unable to discover any solid evidence that the phenomenon is hurting the growth of trees or other plant life. The scientist more or less reiterated that theme again this month.

His statements at the county council meeting come on the heels of a joint Canadian—United States study which not only confirmed earlier suspicions about acidified precipitation but, in some areas, indicated the threat was much greater than originally suspected.

A gathering of close to 500 people from both sides of the border in Toronto recently would indicate there is more than just indifferent interest in the potential damage of acid rain.

Within the strict parameters of scientific investigation Dr. Linzon is no doubt correct. All the evidence is not in — all the findings have yet to be corroborated by the time-consuming testing that must precede the declaration of a scientific fact.

However, many people, including laymen, have assessed the opinions offered by various individuals involved in the investigation of acidified precipitation, and their hypothetical extensions of what is in store for the environment in the next few decades and they are worried, and rightly so.

That concern is heightened by the suggestion that much of the damage caused by acidified precipitation will be irreversible, or take a great deal of time and money to repair.

We do not believe the province or the country has the time to wait until all the evidence is in. To do so could be disastrous.

We hope Dr. Linzon is right in his assessment of the situation and that the press, public and politicians have been over reacting. At the same time, however, we would endorse a policy of "over reaction" to the problems now, to find out five years from now that we were wrong, rather than a policy which would allow the situation to grow to a magnitude that nothing can be done to correct it.

Letters

Editor:

I am writing to you concerning the closing of the Hawk Lake Road.

I am all in favour of closing the road as I have a two year old daughter and safety is a concern to all parents with small children.

Traffic around Hall's Lake is terrible, it's a wonder there haven't been more accidents.

What I'm concerned about is where the road is going to be closed.

I understand, at present, it's going to be closed at Lorelea Lodge which I am against for the following reasons.

1) Closing it there will be very expensive for the county or Township as they would have to increase the size of the area for turning the plows, and there will be large amounts of fill required.

2) In spring with all that snow melting, it will be a problem with run off, making the area below the hill very wet, causing problems to driveways and basements.

3) My greatest concern is my Mother. She is 70 years of age. Just recently she has lost a leg, how is she going to do her shopping at Stinson's store if you close the road at the top of the hill. She can't climb over the snow bank or walk around to the new road with the road closed. It will also make it very difficult for anyone to pick her up for church Sunday and then try to turn around on the hill especially in winter.

4) We live at the bottom of the hill - if I want to go to the store now it takes two seconds after the road is closed it will take 10 minutes.

5) What about mail delivery? Is it going to be the same or is the mail box going to be moved to the top of the hill, another problem, getting your mail.

6) If the Township or County would pick up the taxi fare for my mother's shopping needs and church, then there shouldn't be any problem closing the road at Lorelea Lodge.

7) What about garbage pick up?

8) What about oil delivery? Is there going to be a problem with these services?

9) My Mother has lived in Stanhope all her life, paid taxes, owned and operated a business, put a lot into the community and as she gets older the Township is making it harder for her to live in the area.

10) What I propose is for you to close the road further down, maybe below Sandy Lane in the middle of the swamp, where the township owns the property or close it at the new road.

A petition signed by half a dozen names opposing the road being closed at Lorelea Lodge has also been sent to Stanhope Council. Most of the people along Hawk Lake Road are either summer cottagers or away for the week-end.

I would like the matter brought to someone's attention either at a township meeting or a council meeting.

G. Mole,
Stouffville, Ontario.

Winter warning

With an edging of frosty crystals, a cedar branch portends the arrival of winter.

REPORT FROM QUEEN'S PARK

By John Eakins, M.P.P.

Stuart Smith, leader of the Ontario Liberal Party, is introducing a private member's bill which amounts to an environmental rights bill. The proposed legislation would permit citizens to go to the Supreme Court of Ontario to protect their environment. People could take action to safeguard the environment without "first having to prove that they themselves have been personally damaged or injured".

Stuart Smith stated, in connection with the bill, that reform of existing legislation is long overdue, largely because there have been numerous violations of environmental laws. He cited mercury contamination of the English-Wabigoon River system in northwestern Ontario and Lake St. Clair, and stated that sulphur dioxide emissions continue to pollute the air and thousands of lakes and streams.

Energy supplies

Many constituents in Victoria-Haliburton have expressed concern to me regarding fuel supplies and costs. The Minister of Energy has announced that many homeowners wishing to convert from heating oil to natural gas may have to wait until next spring or summer, due to an overwhelming demand for conversions.

By the end of September this year, the three major natural gas utilities had converted 19,650 homes to natural gas, compared to 8,600 last year. The change from heating based on uncertain oil supplies to more plentiful and cheaper natural gas has left manufacturers of furnace conversion kits unable to meet the demand.

Liberal Energy Critic Julian Reed criticized the Minister for stating that the Government's conservation and renewable energy programs are "deeply rooted in the Government's total approach to energy." He said this was a hollow statement when you consider, for instance, that the windows in the Legislative building are only single pane

The evening has been planned to give the students and their parents an overview of the various options open to students who will be graduating this school year.

According to officials from

HHSS, representatives will be on hand from the Ontario apprenticeship program, two universities, Ryerson Polytechnical Institute, Sir Sandford Fleming College, the Canadian Armed Forces, the Ontario Financial Assistance Program (for students in post secondary institutions), and the Haliburton Scholarship Committee.

A spokesman for each group will give a brief presentation to the crowd and then will be available for questions following the formal portion of the program.

The evening will begin at 7 p.m. and is scheduled to continue until 10 p.m.

High school report

The following report from Haliburton Highlands Secondary School was prepared by the principal, T.B. Moagrove.

The high school is fortunate to be one of five schools in the province this year to participate in an experimental program with the Ministry of Education. The program involves the use of a small computer terminal connected directly to the ministry computer in Toronto for use with the Student Guidance Information System.

The assorted electronic devices connected to the terminal in the high school are: a small computer console with a keyboard for typing requests, a T.V. monitor to display questions and answers and a printer that will print the information for future reference, if so desired.

S.G.I.S. (as it is more commonly referred to) is a computerized system for secondary school students that provides: information on occupations in Canada, the training necessary for these occupations, the post secondary education institutions that offer this training in the Province of Ontario, and the admission requirements for these programs. When you consider there are some 7,000 different occupations and some 150 post secondary training institutions in Ontario, it is clear to see that computer application is well suited to this information function.

The information stored in Toronto is normally available to students through the use of computer cards which are completed by the student and mailed to Toronto for processing. The requested information is then returned by mail.

This procedure can result in significant time delays since in some instances it is often necessary to make a series of requests to obtain complete information. With the mailing process, each request involves approximately one week. The use of the terminal not only gives the student an immediate response to his question but allows him to continue with the next stage of his exploration without delay. Furthermore, any information the student wishes to retain for future reference is printed for him on request.

Access of the terminal is on a 20 minute appointment basis during regular class time and on a first come first serve basis before and after school and during the lunch periods.

Arrangements have been made to have the terminal operational on Wednesday, November 28 during the Post Secondary Information Night. Everyone is welcomed to see it in operation at this time.

Coming Events

November 28 - Post Secondary Information Night at H.H.S.S. (7:00 - 10:00 p.m.)

November 29 - "Spend-A-Day" student program at Sir Sandford Fleming College in Peterborough.

Wildlife areas

Much of southern Canada's waterfowl habitat is disappearing, making way for housing developments, industry and highways. Several years ago, Environment Canada began to acquire prime nesting and migratory stop-over land in threatened areas. To date, more than 30 national wildlife areas have been created as a result and more are being set aside. They are part of our environment.

Twenty two members and 6 guests were present.

After the usual reports Mrs. W. Moore reported sending 39 cards since the last meeting. In keeping with the Year of the Child, Mrs. Packard of Haliburton County Public Libraries showed a film "I'll Make A Way" and Annie Kernohan presented her with a small gift.

Arrangements were made for the refreshments at Hyland Crest birthday tea November 28 and some members agreed to serve.

Collections were taken for the card fund and pennies for friendship.

Members had brought articles for the grocery basket draw with proceeds for new library - art centre. These tickets will sell at 50¢, 3 for $1 and the draw will be made in February, tickets will be ready for us in December.

Our President Mrs. Brown brought us an excellent report of the area convention at Royal York, Toronto, but complained about accommodation. Mrs. Sears will write inquiring about this.

June 2 - 6 of 1980 has been declared Women's Institute week.

The meeting concluded and all enjoyed the delicious lunch served by the committee. On the draw for the mystery box winner was Marcella Wright.

Next meeting will be on December 9 at 2 p.m. at United Church Hall - with exchange of gifts value of $1. Members are invited to bring a guest and all newcomers are welcome.

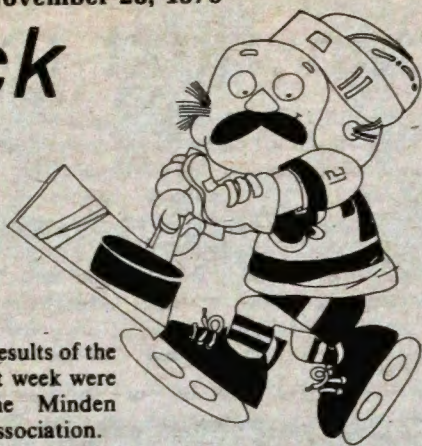

YOU DON'T HAVE TO SHOUT MERRY CHRISTMAS.

1. If you decorate your house with Christmas lights, keep it simple. Too much of a good thing is a waste of electricity.
2. Turn your Christmas display on after 7 pm. when the demand for electricity is lighter. And please, remember to switch it off at bedtime.
3. A happy Christmas is a safe Christmas. Discard old lights that show wear or damage and make sure lights are marked C.S.A. for safety.

OUR BEST WISH-DON'T WASTE YOUR ENERGY, USE IT WISELY.

AROUND THE TOWN

by Jeanne Sears

Another lucky lady at Rotary Bingo last Tuesday November 20 when Cindy Tascona won the snowball of $85 in 18 numbers called; congratulations to her.

Mrs. Harry Welch enjoyed a visit with Mr. and Mrs. Ron Welch and family of Frankford and congrats Edith on her birthday!!

Lottie Edwards and Ruth Stuard of Toronto have been visiting with Jack Johnson and Della Griffin.

At the weekly mini card party at St. Paul's Parish Hall last Thursday afternoon winners were for euchre lone hands: Marg McAfee (on a cut) and Lottie Edwards and Marcella Wright; for cribbage the winners were: Jeanne Sears and Lilian Davidson. Everyone is welcome to come out and meet the gang and make new friends. We start at 1:30 sharp.

We are sorry to report the death of Mrs. Bill Roodenburg, a fine lady. Sincere sympathy to her family who will miss her as will all her many friends.

With December coming, don't forget these people having birthdays at Hyland Crest, Art Young on the 19th and Esther Rowbotham on the 20th. If you know them take time for a visit or even a phone call on their special day.

Only one person reported being on the sick list with good wishes going to Nell Anderson who was in Ross Memorial, Lindsay.

There was a friendly gathering at Wagon Wheel on Saturday night on the occasion of the twenty-fifth Wedding Anniversary of Irene and Spike Moxam. The community sends belated good wishes.

On November 19 Len Lonsberry was honoured for 30 years service in the Brewers Warehousing Company at the Holiday Inn, Toronto. Congrats from all of us, too.

We heard that many people were pleased to talk with former residents Mr. and Mrs. Nelson Ward who were in the village during the weekend, at the Moxam party, and as well as at the morning United Church Service.

If this column seems to be getting shorter, perhaps you have some items you would like to see included; please call Mondays before 9:30 a.m. as this is typed up right after 1:00. The number is 286-1538.

Only coming event is the Christmas afternoon tea and bazaar at St. Paul's Parish Hall December 1 from 2-4:30 p.m. Drop in and have a look around.

Pavements are getting slippery for driving, so take care.

Cheerio until next time.

PCs hold annual

The Victoria-Haliburton Federal Progressive Conservative Association will be holding its annual meeting tonight in Victoria Place.

The guest speaker for the gathering will be the national director of the party, Paul Curley.

Mr. Curley was the chief of the party's operations during the past election campaign and served as national treasurer for the P.C.s for the past two years. He also served as assistant to party leader Robert Stanfield from 1972 to 1974.

Victoria-Haliburton MP Bill Scott will also address the meeting. A new executive for the association will be chosen at the gathering.

New warden next month

Haliburton County Warden Jim Harrison has all but completed his term as the head of county council. He chaired his last full meeting Wednesday morning.

When the council reconvenes next month one of the first orders of business will be the selection of a new warden to serve until December, 1980.

The position is filled by an open vote with any of the 19 members of the council eligible to be nominated. Much of the decision making concerning the post is done before the meeting ever starts however, in private discussions between members of the council. At no time in the past ten years has more than one council member been nominated for the post.

The warden is the head of the county and represents Haliburton at various functions, both inside and outside the county.

WINTARIO.

THE NAME'S THE SAME BUT IT'S A GREAT NEW GAME.

Here's how to play your ticket and follow the draws every Thursday night.

Now Wintario goes weekly. With a new 6-digit ticket* that's a lot more fun to play. With more ways to win. With more prizes - 165,972 of them every week. Including 15 grand prizes - 3 of $100,000 and 12 of $25,000.

And nine exciting new draws instead of six, every Thursday night live on TV.

FIRST DRAW - 4 WAYS TO WIN $10.

The first draw is for a 3-digit number. And if any 3 consecutive digits in your ticket number match the number drawn, you're a winner. For example, if your ticket number is 123456, you would win if 123, 234, 345 or 456 were drawn. That's 4 separate chances at 12,000 - $10 prizes in the 1st draw every Thursday.

SECOND DRAW - 3 WAYS TO WIN $100.

The second draw is a 4-digit number. And if any 4 consecutive digits in your ticket number match the number drawn, you're a winner. For example, if you hold ticket number 123456, you would win if 1234, 2345 or 3456 were drawn. 900 - $100 prizes in the 2nd draw every Thursday.

THIRD DRAW - 2 WAYS TO WIN $1,000.

The third draw is a 5-digit number. And if 5 consecutive digits in your ticket number match the number drawn, you're a winner. For example, if your ticket number is 123456, you would win if either 12345 or 23456 were drawn. 60 - $1,000 prizes every Thursday.

*Tickets issued in blocks of one million each numbered from 000000 to 999999. No series number.

Based on three million tickets issued.

FOURTH, FIFTH, SIXTH & SEVENTH DRAWS - FOR $25,000 GRAND PRIZES.

The next four draws are 6-digit numbers, each of them worth $25,000 if your ticket number matches the number drawn. No subsidiary prizes in these draws. 12 - $25,000 prizes every Thursday.

EIGHTH DRAW FOR $100,000 GRAND PRIZES PLUS MANY MORE CASH PRIZES.

The eighth draw for the First Grand Prizes is also a 6-digit number. If your ticket number matches the number drawn, you win one of the three $100,000 First Grand Prizes.

And for this draw only, if the last five digits on your ticket correspond to those of the winning ticket number, you win $5,000. Match the last four and you win $100. And if you have the last three correct, you win $10. 3 - $100,000 prizes, 27 - $5,000 prizes, 270 - $100 prizes and 2,700 - $10 prizes in the Eighth Draw every Thursday.

NINTH DRAW - 5 WAYS TO WIN A WIN'FALL PRIZE.

The Win'fall draw is a 2-digit number. And if any 2 consecutive digits in your ticket number match the number drawn, you win a free book of Wintario tickets on the next draw worth $5. For example, if your ticket number is 123456, you would win with 12, 23, 34, 45 or 56. 150,000 Win'fall Prizes every Thursday.
